

"TELL MY FRIENDS TO BE BRAVE AND FEARLESS, AND LOYAL TO THE GREAT COMMON PEOPLE."

CLEVELAND,

The Ex-President Says It Will Be a Landslide For W. J. Bryan.

Special Dispatch to the Enquirer.

Princeton, N. J., October 29.—Grover Cleveland, former President, in an interview to-day predicted a landslide to William Jennings Bryan, the Democratic candidate for President. He advanced several reasons for this.

For an hour the great Democratic statesman fought shy of any reference to the political situation. He urged that he no longer takes any active interest in politics, and is content to quietly look on. Then our conversation turned to the conditions in the West, and after a little reminiscent talk, Mr. Cleveland said:

"My young man, you will see a landslide for Bryan the morning after election. Of this I am confident."

MATTER OF POLICY.

To this I replied that the indications, according to the Republican leaders, are favorable to McKinley, but he quickly retorted:

"Of course they are. That is policy. What I tell you is my private opinion."

There was no doubt concerning the former President's sincerity in his expressed belief, and when I asked him what reasons he had for so thinking he continued:

"You do not understand the conditions. There are elements all over the country at work which it would be impossible to draw into line for McKinley. In the first place, union labor is for Bryan. Of recent years this organization of labor has been a factor in politics, and it certainly is not favorable to the interests of capital."

SOURCES OF STRENGTH.

"The traveling men are for Bryan. These men, who are a small army, are of the opinion that the Republican party is the protector of corporations and by the amalgamation of industrial interests many of them have been thrown out of employment."

"In the Northwest, in Minnesota, in Dakota and Iowa, there are many Hollanders. Sympathy for the Boers, who are their own flesh and blood, will induce them to support Bryan. See if I am not correct."

"I have no desire to be drawn into any controversy over the results of the election, but if the Republican managers honestly think that President McKinley will be re-elected it is my opinion they are mistaken. They do not know the situation."

Further on this Mr. Cleveland refused to discuss the campaign. He said that Mr. Bryan is a remarkable orator and has a magnetic personality, which is responsible for his tremendous popularity. I asked him what the effect of an oratorical campaign is. He said: "Well, a man who can talk as Bryan does is a successful method. For a candidate who is not an orator it would be a dismal failure."

Mr. Cleveland said that in spite of his political inactivity he had been sought by representatives of all the leading papers, who were apparently eager to obtain his opinion of the situation. He has steadfastly refused, because, as he said to-day, "I am out of active politics."

Republican Crime Against National Honor and Good Faith

By a vote of 40 to 31 the United States Senate has passed the Porto Rico Tariff Bill, which begins by denying Porto Ricans allegiance to free trade with the United States, and ends by taxing them without citizenship and without representation. Six Republicans—Davis and Nelson, of Minnesota; Mason, of Illinois; Proctor, of Vermont; Simon, of Oregon, and Wellington, of Maryland—were present and voted against this iniquitous measure. Senators Hoar and Pettigrew were paired in favor of the Davis amendment. As for Senators Cullom, Elkins and McCumber, they surrendered their expressed convictions to the false delusion of party harmony.

Thus has been consummated, so far as one house of Congress can, the most remarkable departure from unvarying American precedents, the most unaccountable violation of American good faith, the most insolent affront to almost universal American sentiment.

Let us recapitulate some of the incontrovertibly sound American principles or promises which the Senate vote has overridden or broken:

"All duties, imports and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States."

"No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any State."—(Constitution of the United States.)

"We have not come to make war upon a people of a country that for centuries have been oppressed, but, on the contrary, to bring you protection, not only to yourselves, but to your property, to promote your prosperity and bestow upon you the immunities and blessings of the liberal institutions of our Government."—(Gen. Miles' proclamation to the inhabitants of Porto Rico "in the cause of liberty, justice and humanity," Ponce, July 28, 1898.)

"The highest considerations of justice and good faith demand that we shall not disappoint the confident expectation of sharing in our prosperity with which the people of Porto Rico so gladly transferred their allegiance to the United States. We should treat the interests of this people as our own. I wish most strongly to urge that the customs duties between Porto Rico and the United States be removed."—(Secretary Root in his annual report, November, 1899.)

"The markets of the United States should be opened up to her products. Our plain duty is to abolish all customs tariffs between the United States and Porto Rico and give her products access to our markets."—(President McKinley's message, December 4, 1899.)

"That on and after the passage of this act all merchandise coming into the United States from the island of Porto Rico and all merchandise going from the United States into the island of Porto Rico shall be admitted into the respective ports of origin free of all tariffs, customs, and duties, all laws and parts of laws to the contrary notwithstanding."

ing."—(Section 8 of Senate Bill 2,264, reported by Chairman Foraker, January 9, 1900.)

"A free admission of her products to the United States (which is now accorded to every other State and Territory and to Alaska, not organized into a Territory) would give her relief. It will not hurt us, but, on the contrary, will give us a market for $10,000,000 annually, largely of the products of our farms, which will increase as American prosperity comes to Porto Rico. I am heartily in favor of extending this relief to Porto Rico, while I don't in any way commit myself to extend the same privileges to either Philippine Islands or to Cuba."—(Chairman Payne, of the House Ways and Means Committee, explaining the original bill extending free trade to Porto Rico, January 26, 1900.)

"I believe the Porto Rico Tariff Bill is unconstitutional and violates all our agreements with the pledges to the Porto Ricans."—(Ex-Senator Edmunds.)

"I regard the Porto Rico Tariff Bill as a most serious departure from right principles."—(Ex-President Harrison.)

"The attempt to make three-quarter citizens out of the Porto Ricans is certainly original."—(Ex-Speaker Reed.)

But more remarkable than the absolute indifference of the small majority of the constitutional prohibition to the pledges of the highest authorities in the United States and the plain dictates of duty and sound policy is its indifference to the unmistakable sentiment of the sovereign American people.

With one heart, one mind, one voice, the people of the United States, as represented by the press, have protested against the outrage against Porto Rico—the violation of American honor contained in this Tariff Bill. Their protests have been received with contempt, and they have been told, "you are ignorant; you do not understand."

True, they do not understand how the Republican majority has the effrontery to pass a bill which violates all American precedents against the will of a practically unanimous people.

Now we will see if the House, which has to face its constituents within seven months, dares to reaffirm the obnoxious tariff, now that it knows the temper of the American people.

Just as surely as this is a Government of the people, by the people, for the people, the American people will not suffer the obloquy this bill casts on their honor and good faith to be perpetuated with impunity. If the Republican majority permits it, there will be a beckoning with the Republican party by Republicans next November.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

This is the way to vote the straight Democratic Ticket.

The above is the emblem of the democratic party just as it will appear on the ticket next Tuesday. In order to vote the straight democratic ticket, you must make your mark inside the circle. If made on the outside of the circle, although it be under the rooster's feet, yet the vote will not be counted.

The argument is made. The jury now has the issue in its keeping. The verdict will be rendered on next Tuesday. What will it be?

Never since Jefferson penned the immortal Declaration of Independence, and with the magic wand of his genius called into being that constellation of states, which for more than a hundred years has been the political guiding light of the world, has such an important issue been presented for the candid and sober consideration of the people as the one now before them. We know and are proud of the fact that the great majority of the people are honest and want to do that which is best for themselves, and for the teeming millions yet unborn. But sometimes demagogues sit in high places, and with a Syren song lull them into a feeling false security while they are standing on the brink of a heaving Vesuvius.

Our countrymen, our fathers thought our best, truest and ablest men should be placed at the helm of state. When battles were to be fought they selected a Washington, a Grant, a Sherman, a Paul Jones or a Perry; when laws were to be made they selected a Jefferson, a Hamilton, a Webster or a Clay. For their warriors they selected not a boy with a toy pistol; for their statesmen they selected not untried hand of the youthful administer of pills. Were our fathers right, or were they wrong? Candidates are presented to you for congress. Mr. Gilbert is a learned, trained and able lawyer. He is statesman who is able to measure swords with all comers, and in the forum is strong, eloquent and convincing. He is the kind of man we need in congress.

Today the North and East send their ablest men to congress. The South sometimes sends the shadow of its former self. What is the result? The inevitable. The Southland, Kentucky and all the border states, pay into Federal treasury their hard earned dollar, but when a custom house is to be built, when a river is to be improved and rendered navigable, when vast appropriations are to be made, it is all done in the north and east.

Give us able men in Congress, and ere long the south will say to the North, "Justice within thy palace chamber," and the North re-echoing say, "Justice within thy walls."

My Countrymen, do you want the people of this land, Liberty's last foothold upon the earth, to remain free? Do you want every man beneath the stars and stripes to be recognized as joint sovereigns of an empire of freemen, holding their sovereignty by a right in deed Divine? If so let us not go 8000 miles away, and beyond the ocean's wave, among an alien and foreign people, set up an empire of might, and forget that "all governments derive their power from the consent of the governed."

Do you want to continue to pay tribute to the trusts and combines? Do you still want the money Barons of the East to buy your raw materials at their own price, and sell you back the manufactured articles at their own figures, leaving you and your children forever, "hewers of wood and drawers of water?" If you do vote for Mark Hanna, the power behind McKinley's throne, greater than the throne, but if you wish to stand tall and erect by the stately column of justice, law and order, vote for that matchless champion of the people's cause, William Jennings Bryan, and for that cool, collected and able young Governor of Kentucky, who, when the rattle of bayonets and the clank of arms were heard about the dying couch of William Goebel, was heard to exclaim, during the long night of that reign of terror, "Let no blood be shed, the law must be supreme."

Do you say that Bryan can not win? Remember that Jefferson was defeated but to go to the White House in four years; that the hero of New Orleans went down before the imperial lance of Adams but to rise in triumph at the next election, and that Cleveland was deluged beneath an avalanche of votes but to ride the coming wave of victory.

O. O. Stanley, the best political prophet of our day, says: "There is no discouraging news anywhere for democrats. Gorman reiterates that Bryan will carry Maryland. Bryan's trip through West Virginia has taken that boss-ridden little Southern State out of the republican column. The news from Ohio is especially good, and Indiana still stands solid for Bryan. Illinois, like Ohio, is in the doubtful column.

Kansas and Nebraska are all right, and little Jersey is getting in line. Never mind the little states in the west that Bryan carried before. They will come up smiling for democracy on election day."

The star of victory has appeared in the sky. The wise men of the East have seen it and are following it. The shepherds on our western slopes have beheld its splendor and, regardless of their party affiliations, are bowing down before it.

Boys, go to the polls early next Tuesday. See that your neighbors go. If he is sick, haul him; if he is blind, lead him. Put your cross in the circle beneath the feet of the rooster; be sober and make no mistake, and when the sun rises on next Wednesday morning it will shed its benign rays on a land of freemen, disenthralled from the serfdom of trusts and the power of pelf.

No-Count Boni de Castellane is a veritable "Napoleon of Finance"

If Beckham is elected and Jim Howard is hung for the murder of Mr. Goebel, the blood of this innocent man will be, to a certain extent at least, upon the hands of those republicans who fail to go to the polls and vote.—London Echo. The inference we draw is that if Yerkes is elected Howard will be pardoned. Are we not right?—[Interior Journal.

Chairman Jones sensibly remarks that the Republicans might as well claim the Democrats are going to steal Arkansas or Texas as Kentucky. The Democrats do not need to steal Kentucky, but it is very necessary that they see to it that Kentucky is not again stolen from them.—[Louisville Times.

HON. W. J. BRYAN concluded his New York campaign in a speech at Dunkirk, Tuesday. In the South Western part of the State he made fifteen speeches, making in all 110 speeches in the Empire State. Mr. Bryan in summing up the condition of affairs in the East says: "I think the Democrats have more than an even chance of carrying the State. Some of the leaders who are in a position to know, say that Bryan will carry the State by 50,000.

PINLEY Anderson, who was one of the witnesses against Caleb Powers, in the assassination trial at Georgetown, has made affidavit saying all he swore in that trial was false. The evidence is on file to show what Pinley swore when on the witness stand, and the affidavit is on record to show what he has to say now. So it is evident that the youngster has sworn a "lie" somewhere, and the proper reward due him, let it be as it may, is that which belongs to all perjurers.

Good Roads.

I noticed in the last issue of the Signal an article, which I suppose was written by the Wildie correspondent, asking a few questions, as he says; for information, and at times letting a few words drop in opposition to turn pikes and the bond issue. The first question asked, was, where will these two pikes spoken of begin? Will Mt. Vernon be the starting point or will they commence at the county line? To that question I will give the following answer:

Wherever the Commissioners say, the pike shall begin. That is left to no town or community to say. The only thing we have ever heard said about the starting point for the pikes, was that one would start either at the Lincoln or Tauler line and the other at the Palaski or Madison line, and be two pikes running through the county in each direction, its full length. However, I want to say, that Mr. Vernon will not be the starting point. Oh! yes, I will heartily agree with you when you say interest would be $1200, but how many years do you have to pay that amount? Only one, you must consider after interest has been paid, that there will be left $1100 to be paid on the original debt. Then the next year, we will only have to pay interest on $2,900, and so on, until the debt is paid off. Now Mr. correspondent, take your arithmetic, for I know you are a school teacher, calculated for yourself and you can see what the result, being a great believer in that old saying: "Liars can figure, but figures won't lie."

Now you say you want good roads, but you say you want them all over the county. So do I. But how do you expect to get them unless a start is made somewhere. In anything there has to be a beginning. Take the lower counties, where they have the very best of pikes, and they were not built in a single day, nor in a year, but if the people of this county will all unite on this great and important question, it will not be five years until there be good pikes running in every direction throughout our county. The rough and rocky roads which are made desolate by the bushes and briars, which inhabit their banks, will be no more, but in its stead we will see good fences, all this old shrubbery cleared away, and what are now lands given up as homes for the rabbits, will be converted into nice meadows. Immigration seeking homes, would find lodging among us. That is another need of our county, more inhabitants. It is no uncommon thing to start out over the county and find men, owning large tracts of land, which they never cultivate nor look after in any way, and just, here, I want to assert, that there are not a dozen farmer in Rockcastle county, but what if they are handled properly, could be made good ones. It is from observation along this line that I speak. I have in mind now the one owned by J. W. Moore and the other by Fred Hahn which, at the time, they were purchased by these gentlemen, were considered the most worthless farms in the county, and to-day they are regarded as about the best, so we see what is only necessary to have good farms—more people and plenty of work. But some one will say that pikes will not bring more people. I answer emphatically that it will, because turnpikes would be the greatest inducement we could under any consideration for the people from a distance to come here and buy land. Now in conclusion, let me exhort every voter in the county, regardless of political affiliations to cast his vote for the bond issue next Tuesday. It is a common enterprise and will be a general help to every person in the county. Whether Bryan or McKinley, Beckham or Yerkes, is elected, let us all unite and carry the bond issue.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY.
This is the way to vote the Straight Democratic
Ticket.

The above is the emblem of the democratic party just as it will appear on the ticket next Tuesday. In order to vote the straight democratic ticket, you must make your mark inside the circle. If made on the outside of the circle, although it be under the rooster's feet, yet the vote will not be counted.

The argument is made. The jury now has the issue in its keeping. The verdict will be rendered on next Tuesday. What will it be?

Our countrymen, our fathers thought our best, truest and ablest men should be placed at the helm of state. When battles were to be fought they selected a Washington, a Grant, a Sherman, a Paul Jones or a Perry; when laws were to be made they selected a Jefferson a Hamilton, a Webster or a Clay. For their warriors they selected not a boy with a toy pistol; for their statesmen they selected not untried hand of the youthful administer of pills. Were our fathers right, or were they wrong? Candidates are presented to you for congress. Mr. Gilbert is a learned, trained and able lawyer. He is statesman who is able to measure swords with all comers, and in the forum is strong, eloquent and convincing. He is the kind of man we need in congress.

Today the North and East send their ablest men to congress. The South sometimes sends the shadow of its former self. What is the result? The inevitable. The Southland, Kentucky and all the border states, pay into Federal treasury their hard earned dollar, but when a custom house is to be built, when a river is to be improved and rendered navigable, when vast appropriations are to be made, it is all done in the north and east.

Give us able men in Congress, and ere long the south will say to the North, "Justice within thy palace chamber," and the North re-echoing say, "Justice within thy walls."

My Countrymen, do you want the people of this land, Liberty's last foothold upon the earth, to remain free? Do you want every man beneath the stars and stripes to be recognized as joint sovereigns of an empire of freemen, holding their sovereignty by a right in deed Divine? If so let us not go 8000 miles away, and beyond the ocean's wave, among an alien and foreign people, set up an empire of might, and forget that "all governments derive their power from the consent of the governed." Do you want to continue to pay tribute to the trusts and combines? Do you still want the money Barons of the East to buy your raw materials at their own price, and sell you back the manufactured articles at their own figures, leaving you and your children forever, "hewers of wood and drawers of water?" If you do vote for Mark Hanna, the power behind McKinley's throne, greater than the throne, but if you wish to stand tall and erect by the stately column of justice, law and order, vote for that matchless champion of the people's cause, William Jennings Bryan, and for that cool, collected and able young Governor of Kentucky, who, when the rattle of bayonets and the clank of arms were heard about the dying couch of William Goebel, was heard to exclaim, during the long night of that reign of terror, "Let no blood be shed, the law must be supreme."

Do you say that Bryan can not win? Remember that Jefferson was defeated but to go to the White House in four years; that the hero of New Orleans went down before the imperial lance of Adams but to rise in triumph at the next election, and that Cleveland was deluged beneath an avalanche of votes but to ride the coming wave of victory.

O. O. Stealey, the best political prophet of our day, says: "There is no discouraging news anywhere for democrats. Gorman reiterates that Bryan will carry Maryland. Bryan's trip through West Virginia has taken that boss-ridden little Southern State out of the republican column. The news from Ohio is especially good, and Indiana still stands solid for Bryan. Illinois, like Ohio, is in the doubtful column.

Kansas and Nebraska are all right, and little Jersey is getting in line. Never mind the little states in the west that Bryan carried before. They will come up smiling for democracy on election day."

The star of victory has appeared in the sky. The wise men of the East have seen it and are following it. The shepherds on our western slopes have beheld its splendor and, regardless of their party affiliations, are bowing down before it.

Boys, go to the polls early next Tuesday. See that your neighbor goes. If he is sick, haul him; if he is blind, lead him. Put your cross in the circle beneath the feet of the rooster; be sober and make no mistake, and when the sun rises on next Wednesday morning it will shed its benign rays on a land of freemen, disenthralled from the serfdom of trusts and the power of self.

No-Count Boni de Castellane is a veritable "Napoleon of Finance"

If Beckham is elected and Jim Howard is hung for the murder of Mr. Goebel, the blood of this innocent man will be, to a certain extent at least, upon the hands of those republicans who fail to go to the polls and vote.—London Echo. The inference we draw is that if Yerkes is elected Howard will be pardoned. Are we not right?—[Interior Journal]

Chairman Jones sensibly remarks that the Republicans might as well claim the Democrats are going to steal Arkansas or Texas as Kentucky. The Democrats do not need to steal Kentucky, but it is very necessary that they see to it that Kentucky is not again stolen from them.—[Louisville Times]

HON. W. J. BRYAN concluded his New York campaign in a speech at Dunkirk, Tuesday. In the South Western part of the State he made fifteen speeches, making in all 110 speeches in the Empire State. Mr. Bryan in summing up the condition of affairs in the East says: "I think the Democrats have more than an even chance of carrying the State. Some of the leaders who are in a position to know, say that Bryan will carry the State by 50,000."

FINLEY Anderson, who was one of the witnesses against Caleb Powers, in the assassination trial at Georgetown, has made affidavit saying all he swore in that trial was false. The evidence is on file to show what Finley swore when on the witness stand, and the affidavit is on record to show what he has to say now. So it is evident that the youngster has sworn a "lie" somewhere, and the proper reward due him, let it be as it may, is that which belongs to all perjurers.

The total amount received for month of October was $120.73

This looks like a very small profit, and so it is, but compare this with the corresponding month of last year, we find the present showing very encouraging indeed for our school.

Blood.

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor.

There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bone muscle and brain, in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood.

This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. It sets the whole body going again—man woman and child.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample. It will surprise you. SCOTT'S EMULSION, Chemist, 69-71 1st Street, New York. 50c and 10c; all druggists.

WARNING

GIVEN BY RICHARD CROKER That Republicans Will Try To Count Out Bryan He Advocates Heroic Measures.

New York, October 29. Richard Croker to-day sent out a warning to Democrats everywhere that attempts would be made to count out William Jennings Bryan on election day. Among other things he said:

"Every man who votes for Bryan should see that his vote is counted, and there is only one way to do that safely. My advice to Democratic voters the country over is to congregate about the polling places on the evening of election day, count noses, and the, if the election returns for Bryan don't tally with their count, to go into the polling places and throw those fellows in charge of the returns into the street."

Mr. Croker's advice was given in the course of a discussion of the political outlook, in which he said Bryan was sure of election if the Republicans did not steal it from him.

"Bryan will not only carry New York State," said Mr. Croker, "but he will carry it by a big majority, and he will run the same way all over the country. He will be elected as certain as his name is Bryan. I never felt so confident of a thing in my life.

"Of course the Republicans are going to resort to all kinds of tricks and crookedness to cheat him out of the election. I know this to be true, and that is why Democrats want to be on the alert."

LOBSTER CACTUS

Blooms During Democratic Years and Is New Bearing Flowers.

Mrs. Dr. Van Pelt has a beautiful lobster cactus, which has bloomed every Presidential year in forecast of Democratic success since 1880. In 1884, when Cleveland was elected, it bloomed, failed in 1888 upon Mr. Harrison's victory, but was again lovely in bloom in 1892 with Mr. Cleveland's re-election.

In 1896 it failed again. This year it is in full bloom for the success of Wm. J. Bryan.

RELIEVED WOMEN
WINE OF CARDUI
has brought permanent relief to a million suffering women who were on their way to premature graves. Mrs. Mitchell was fast declining in health, when Wine of Cardui performed a "wonderful cure" in her case. She suffered with the agonies of falling of the womb, leucorrhea and profuse menstruation. The weekly appearance of the menses for two months sapped her vitality until she was a physical wreck. Her nervous system gave way. Then came the trial of Wine of Cardui and the cure. Mrs. Mitchell's experience ought to commend Wine of Cardui to suffering women in words of burning eloquence.

is within the reach of all. Women who try it are relieved. Ask your druggist for a $1 bottle of Wine of Cardui, and do not take a substitute if tendered you.

Mrs. Willie Mitchell, South Gaston, N. C.:
"Wine of Cardui and Theodore's Black-draught have performed a miraculous cure in my case. I had been a great sufferer with falling of the womb and leucorrhea, and my menses came every week for two months and were very painful. My husband induced me to try Wine of Cardui and Black-draught, and now the leucor-rhea has disappeared, and I am restored to perfect health."
